SUPPLEMENT TO REPORT NO.

- The General Directorate for Military Construction Enterprises, with headquarters in Belgrade, falls under the jurisdiction of the Ministry of National Defense, and controls all subordinate Military Construction Enterprises through Yugoslavia. These Military Construction Enterprises are responsible for coastal fortifications, the building up and fortification of shipyards, military roads and areas.
- 2. The subordinate Military Construction Enterprises are identified by Roman numerals and have jurisdiction over all individual military construction enterprises. Thus, the III Military Construction Enterprise, headed by Zvonko Petrinovic, has its headquarters in Rijeka and controls the following individual military construction enterprises: Ivo Lavcevic, headquarters in Split, and Primorje, headed by Veljo Brkovic, with headquarters in Rijeka.
- 3. The individual military construction enterprises are subdivided into dionice (sections) according to the number of shipyards within their area (Primorje, therfore, has four dionice), and these subdivisions are further split up into carpenters, masons, iron moulders, et cetera, inasmuch as the personnel have been formed into workers: brigades.
- 4. Military Construction Enterprises follow the general structure of the German Todt organizations, whereby all the personnel, from engineers to laborers, must sign contracts of at least three years' duration binding them to work in one or more of the Enterprises throughout Yugoslavia, and making all personnel subject to transfer without notice.
